On August 31, 1990, [redacted] State Director for United States Senator, Frank R. Lautenberg, One Gateway Center, Newark, New Jersey, provided the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) with a microcassette which contained approximately 51 calls made to Senator Lautenberg's office by captioned subject on August 31, 1990. [redacted] stated that the cassette was being used in an answering machine located in the Senator's Office. [redacted] also stated that he listened to the calls from subject and became concerned for the Senator because of subject's emotional state as related in the messages left on the answering machine.

On this date, the messages were reviewed and found not to contain any direct threats against the Senator. However, subject was very emotional on the tape and at times used foul language. The large number of calls also highlighted the subject's emotional state, causing the Senator's office to be concerned.

Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) [redacted] United States Attorney's Office, Newark, New Jersey, was advised of the facts surrounding this matter and concurred with the decision to confront subject and admonish him about the calls.

On this date, subject was interviewed about the calls. Subject admitted to making the calls and stated that "I guess my emotions just got the better of me". Subject agreed not to call the Senator's Office again. Subject was advised of the possible penalties associated with his actions and stated that he did not call with the intent of threatening the senator but just wanted to find a person who could help with his ongoing custody battle.

On September 4, 1990, AUSA [redacted] was again appraised of the facts concerning this matter and issued an immediate declination.

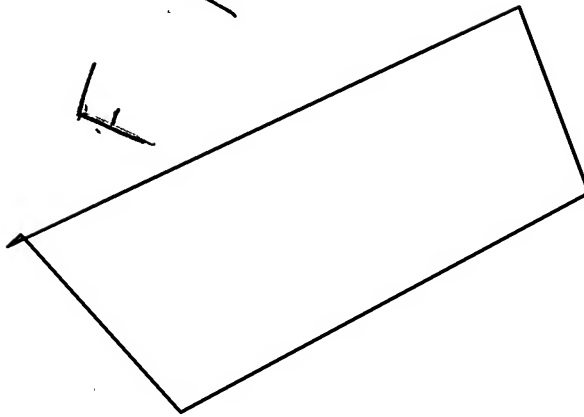

Subject is further described as the following:

This letter is to confirm our August 29, 1990

[redacted]
[redacted] was interviewed at that location concerning telephone calls made to the office of United States Senator FRANK LAUTENBERG, Senator from New Jersey. After being advised of the identity of the interviewing agents by a show of credentials, the following information was provided by [redacted]

[redacted] stated that he did make calls to the Senator's office on the night of the thirtieth of August. He stated that he could not remember how many he made but acknowledged that many were made. He stated that he let his emotions get carried away which resulted in his harsh language and rambling conversation. He stated that he was calling the senator to try to get him to investigate what he perceives as influence peddling by a New Jersey state senator in a child custody case in Hudson County.

[redacted] wanted to know if the FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION would also investigate the same allegations.

[redacted] stated that he did not intend to harm the senator and was not making threats against him. [redacted] promised not to call the senator again and agreed to pursue his case with state officials, not the senator.
